The PX index is the official price index of the Prague Stock Exchange, which represents the development of the Czech stock market. It consists of 11 major equity titles which it represents according to its market capitalisation. The index is mostly made up of regionally operating companies such as ČEZ, Erste Group Bank AG, Komerční banka, Moneta Money Bank and Vienna Insurance Group (VIG). These 5 pivotal equity titles account for about 90% in the weighted index. It above all covers the financial sector (71,03 %) and energy industry (17,78 %). The index also observes the equity titles of Philip Morris, Primoco UAV, Kofola, ColtCZ, Photon Energy and Gevorkyan. In the interest of maintaining the quality and stability of the index, the composition of the index is reviewed on a quarterly basis. This is a price index so the dividend yields gained from equity titles are not reinvested and are not projected into the index's performance.
